The Accessible Justice Project has been set up to help Australians with real-life legal problems who do not qualify for legal aid but cannot afford a private lawyer. We need to ask you a few questions to help understand your legal issue and work out whether we can assist you.

These include questions about your income, assets and household situation. When we meet, we may ask you to provide documents or other information to support your answers.

All the information you provide will be treated in strict confidence and according to our privacy policy which can be found at accessiblejustice.org.au/privacy-policy

 Please fill out the below using clear BLOCK letters in black or blue ink

 Then scan and email to: contact@accessiblejustice.org.au

 Or deliver in person or mail to our office at:
The Accessible Justice Project
Level 23, 25 Grenfell Street
